The Dr. E. Murakami Centre for Lyme Research, Education & Assistance was founded by Dr. Ernest Murakami, MD and Clinical Associate Professor Emeritus of UBC. Through years of his personal medical practice in British Columbia, Dr. Murakami became fascinated with Lyme disease and the associated co-infections. He has made it his life's work to continue his efforts to make a difference for Canadians suffering through a failing health care system in Canada today.

Making Our Voice Heard

Through validated studies and research, intensive funding and the assistance of unbiased research facilities, the Murakami Centre for Lyme strives to offer a valuable resource of information to governing bodies, the medical community and Canadian citizens on the facts surrounding the growing epidemic of Lyme and co-infections in our country. Working together with other Lyme groups and our Provincial and Federal Governments, we envision a positive change within our healthcare system that will benefit all Canadians in the diagnosis and treatment of Lyme.

Our Promise to Canadians

We vow to remain professional and unbiased with our research and education of Lyme. Our programs offer insight into all aspects of the disease and the hope that rides with intensive unbiased study.

We pledge to continue our efforts through the purpose of the Society so that one day Canadians can be assured superior protocols for Lyme exist in their own country, should they or their loved ones fall victim to this debilitating and insidious disease.

RESEARCH

With research skills and technology available to us from reputable unbiased laboratories, our research objectives are conducted under the direction of Dr. Murakami and the Society's Research Committee.

EDUCATION

Our Educational Lectures and Seminars are carefully developed to assist in the on-going training and information available to the medical community and the citizens of Canada, and are directed by Dr. Murakami.

ASSISTANCE

Our one-of-a-kind Assistance Program offers valuable financial aid to Canadians who cannot meet the overwhelming expenses of out-of-country Lyme treatment, as necessitated by our current lack of treatment options in Canada.

Dedicated to making a difference. Dedicated to Canadians with Lyme.
