▶ Did you know you may never feel the actual tick bite because the tick literally freezes the area first.

▶ Did you know that one bite from an infected tick, or other vector, can cause Lyme Disease and its many co-infections.

Ernie Murakami, MD is a retired family physician. Ernie's passion and interest in Lyme disease started with his first case of Lyme disease from a Hope BC patient in 1994. Over the years, he has attended conferences of Lyme disease and has become privy to the vast differences within the medical community views of this disease.

Dr. Murakami was educated at the University of British Columbia where he obtained his Bachelors in Immunology & Bacteriology, and continued on to achieve his MD. He has been honoured and recognized for his efforts to further the education of fellow colleagues through the UBC, giving him the status of Clinical Associate Professor Emeritus.

Dr. Murakami is the founder of the Dr. E. Murakami Centre for Lyme Research, Education and Assistance and has made it his life's work to further educate and treat Lyme in Canada.
